FURNITURE & FINISHES TO COMMISSION

demi lune commode

Commissioned by boutique hotels and private clients all over the world, furniture maker Rupert Bevan is known both for his classic modern designs and for his recreations of important period pieces.

Inspired by the classical 'half moon' pieces so fashionable in the 18th Century, this is one of a pair of demi lune commodes recently commissioned from Rupert Bevan by leading decorator Caroline Paterson. Convincingly patinated to an antique finish, it has a hand painted off-white exterior with gilded trim details. Made from beech with a solid oak interior, its delicate brass grilles are backed with pleated silk. To get the desired effect, the Scagliola marble-effect tops are made from ground gypsum and then hand polished. Beautifully carved reeded feet terminate in brass cover caps.

Prices for similar pieces start from £12,500 + VAT.
